Luke,

Attached are the Agencies draft comments to the Christian Litigation ISWPs for residential and pasture areas in Opportunity and Crackerville.

The residential ISWPs are consistent with the CSOU ROD and exceed the current 2002 Residential Soil RAWP/FDR. Although the data have not been validated, they appear acceptable for their intended use.

The pasture ISWPs are confusing and would seem to be inconsistent with the ARWWS ROD. It is suggested that the areas identified for action could be incorporated into work plans prepared under the approach that you used for the residential areas or abandoned at this time.

As planned, we can discuss these comments on Friday September 6th at 10:00 at the TWA trailer.

Charlie
